

OFFICE HOLDERS AFRAID OF LOSING THEIR JOBS

Story From Washington That They Would Have President Withdraw

The Associated Press, the great news gathering association of the country, sends out a story from Washington that a movement is to be started among the regular republicans of the country to ask President Taft to withdraw as the Republican presidential candidate. The movement is backed, it is said, by a large number of Republican office holders who feel they face defeat in November unless the breach in the party can be healed. It is said to be the desire of the promoters of the scheme that a decision shall be reached before August 5, when the Roosevelt faction plans to hold a convention in Chicago.

GALLINGER HAS NAVAL BILL AMENDED

Through the efforts of Senator Gallinger the naval appropriation bill has been amended so as to allow $100,000 for the further extension of quay walls at the Portsmouth navy yard. This appropriation is badly needed and if it can be kept in the bill will be a big help to this station. One stretch of quay wall is now under construction and if the amendment of Senator Gallinger stands it will mean the completion of the wall to Henderson's Point or the space on the waterfront between the dry dock and the flat-iron pier.

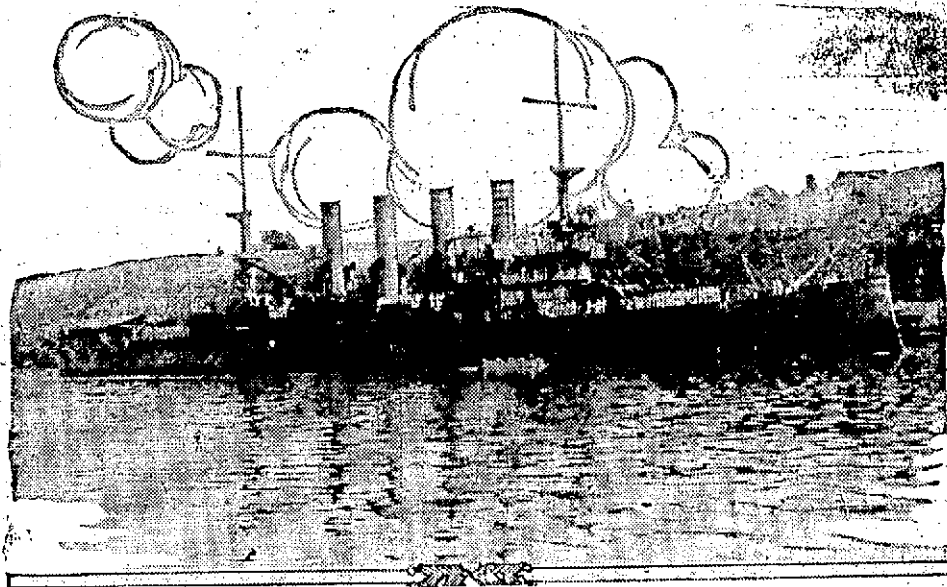

BRICK MAKERS UNABLE TO MAKE SHIPMENTS

The excessive heat of the past week is certainly working hardships to the brick makers at Dover Point, Elliot and other places in this vicinity. They are unable to get the brick properly cooled off in the kilns in order to make shipments to fill the many orders which they have on hand.

FUNERAL NOTICE

Died, in Elliot July 8, Frank Ellsworth Kennard, aged 25 years. Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends invited.

U. S. S. WASHINGTON ARRIVES AT NAVY YARD

The U. S. S. Washington.

Makes a Record Breaking Trip from Hampton Roads to this Port

The U. S. armored cruiser Washington, Capt. R. M. Hughes, U. S. N., commanding, arrived in the outer harbor shortly before noon and came up to the navy yard at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Washington made a record-breaking run from Hampton Roads to this port and both officers and men are glad to get back to the home port of the cruiser.

Just what are the plans in relation to the Washington is not known at the present writing, but she will undoubtedly be placed in reserve during her stay at this station.

The Washington recently underwent a naval survey and it is announced that there is a great amount of work to be done on the vessel which will be pleasing news to the men employed on the yard from this city and vicinity.

The arrival of the Washington was unheralded. The cruiser left Hampton Roads Monday morning and was not expected to reach here before Wednesday and it is thought that her run up the coast must have been a record-breaking one.

VETERAN RAILROAD MAN PASSES AWAY

Frank Ellsworth Kennard, one of the best known engineers of the Boston & Maine railroad, died at his home in Elliot late Monday evening. He was born in Elliot July 20, 1887, the son of William L. and Mary Frost Kennard. His early education was gained in the old Elliot academy, after which he entered the employ of the old Eastern railroad as a fireman and soon rose to the position of engineer. He continued in the employ of the Eastern and Boston & Maine railroads for a period of thirty-seven years, up to last January, when poor health compelled him to give up. Of late years he had run the train that passed through this city at 2.45 o'clock, to Portland, returning to Boston on the early morning express which passed through this city shortly after 3 o'clock. During his long career as an engineer Mr. Kennard never had a serious accident and was considered one of the ablest engineers on the road. He was popular with his associates and his death will cause sincere grief to those he was wont to mingle with in his daily life.

He took a deep interest in the Masonic fraternity and in early life became affiliated with Naval Lodge, A. F. and A. M. of Kittery. He afterwards joined Unity Chapter of South Berwick, Orient Council of Somerville and Corner de Lion Commandery, Knights Templar, of Charlestown and Korn Temple of Lewiston. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers and the Boston & Maine Relief Association. He is survived by a wife and one son, William O. Kennard of Elliot, who have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of acquaintances in their deep affliction.

In the death of Mr. Kennard the town of Elliot has lost an upright citizen who took a keen interest in all matters pertaining to the welfare of his native town.

SUGGESTS A RAJING

A well known citizen called at The Herald office today and suggested that instead of the memorial fountain to Ensign Charles Emerson Hovey being removed, that a railing of brass or some other material be placed on the outside of the walk to prevent the fountain from sustaining injury of any nature.

FOR BEATING A BOARDING HOUSE

Charles E. Reynolds wanted in Dover for beating a boarding house, was arrested Monday evening at a lodging house on High street by Officers McCaffery and Ducker. He was taken to Dover today by Deputy Marshal Wilkinson.

Don't Let Dust Spoil Your Books

During summer, when you have the windows of your library open, a lot of dust will blow in spite of all your precautions. It settles on the edges of books, makes them grimy and spoils the pages.

Nearly everybody is doing away with the open shelf library and replacing it with the safe GLOBE-WERNICKE system which expands as you need it and keeps every book tightly enclosed, yet very easy to reach.

You will find GLOBE-WERNICKE SECTIONAL BOOK-CASES an economy in many ways. They cost little, can be had whenever you want them and save books.

SUPREME REGENT TO VISIT ALPHA COUNCIL

One of the most important meetings of the Royal Arcanum held in this state, will be this evening, when Alpha Council, of this city, will have as their guests Supreme Regent Rev. F. T. McFadden of Richmond, Va., and the grand officers of three states. In their honor a class initiation of 30 candidates will be given, the Dorchester ritual to be worked by the Alpha degree team under the direction of Captain F. T. Harriman, the degree master, by the way, this degree team is considered to be one of the best in the country.

The degree work will be followed by a shore supper.

In addition to Supreme Regent McFadden, there will be present D. S. R. D. B. Beckford, Grand Regent Wier and Grand Secretary Kelt of Massachusetts, Grand Regent James and Grand Secretary Hodgson of Maine, Grand Regent F. E. Leavitt and officers of New Hampshire.

Supreme Regent McFadden and the grand officers will be met on their arrival this afternoon and taken for an auto ride and at six o'clock will have dinner with Grand Regent Leavitt at his home.

CAPTAIN DAY READY FOR TRIP.

Daring Navigator Will Pilot 35-Foot Motor Boat Across the Atlantic.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 8.—Thomas Fleming Day, editor of the Rudder and famous in the power-boat world, left the Eastern Wide Waters yesterday on his way to New York, where he is to start across the Atlantic Ocean to Queenstown and Baltimore, and if possible to St. Petersburg, in the thirty-five-foot power-boat Detroit, in which he reached Rochester yesterday by way of the Erie Canal.

Twice Mr. Day has been the winner of the ocean race from New York to Bermuda, and his name an dithat of the Alisa Craig will be remembered together in the history of the development of the gasoline motor for marine purposes. Last year he returned to sail and crossed the Atlantic to Gibraltar in the Sea Bird. Tens of thousands of amateur yachtsmen, power and sail, will follow the reports of the skipper when he departs from New York in a few days on his daring voyage. Walter Morion of Detroit, a Corinthian of the first class, was with Mr. Day in Rochester. He will be one of the crew of five.

Mr. Day said the proposed trip is a pioneer venture in power-boating and also a sporting pleasure trip. He will take the regular steamship track across the ocean, going as far north as possible to shorten the distance.

Mr. Day believes the Detroit can make the trip in twenty days, but she is fuelled for twenty-five and provided for ninety. The boat is of life-boat construction and of great beam and weight. She is divided into three compartments, the cabin, stove section and engine room, and all the navigating must be done from the deck.

GILE FOR GOVERNOR.

Dean of Dartmouth Medical School Boomed to Reconcile New Hampshire Republican Factions.

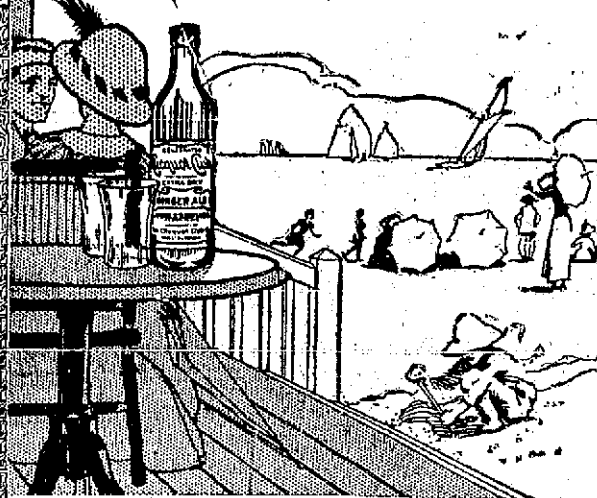

BRETON WOODS, N. H., July 8.—Dr. John M. Gile of Hanover is being boomed for the next Governor of New Hampshire. Dr. Gile is a member of Gov. Bass' Progressive Council, but he refused to follow the Governor into the Roosevelt movement and upheld the State organization in its endorsement of Taft. His candidacy, it is claimed, would harmonize the warring factions among the New Hampshire Republicans.

Dr. Gile is dean of the Dartmouth Medical School, a member of the American Academy of Medicine and a score of New Hampshire and Massachusetts medical societies. Prominent New Hampshire Republicans at Bretton Woods who may have launched the Gile boom are Ex-Gov. Floyd S. Ferey Hooker, State superintendent of highways, Gen. Frank Streeter of Concord and Roscreans W. Pillsbury of Manchester.

TO SAVE THE WOODS

Open Air Show Will Be Presented at York Harbor

On Wednesday, July 31, at 3.30 o'clock, will be opened the open air performance of Hawthorne for which all York Harbor and Village are working to make "an access of the Maine coast this season. The pine woods, which are to be saved from saw mill destruction and turned into a public park, will be the setting for the Indians who play their Passion play, as it is called, in Pantonlaw, while Prof. Pigott of Toronto University reads Longfellow's poem. On the border of a small and thickly shaded lake the plays will take place. With all the songs and dances and ceremonies of the tribe. The lake has been treated with anti-mosquito preparation, the seats and boxes have been placed for the audience in the shade, where the afternoon sunlight filters through tree tops onto the Indians, who will wander through the pine trees, and at night when the lighting is artificial the camp fires will add a touch of mystery to the surroundings.

Boxes for the first day have already been sold to Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page of Washington, Mrs. Matthew Luce of Boston, Mrs. Thacher Loring, Mr. Peter Finley Dunne (Mr. Dooley), Mr. John Adwalader, Philadelphia; Mr. William Jean Howells, Mr. John Breckinridge of New York; Mrs. Bernard Weld, Mrs. Forbes Freeman and Miss Foster of Boston cottagers, and Mr. John Kendrick Bangs of New York. The applications for tickets indicate a prosperous season. The motoring distance from the North Shore is about 50 miles, Portland 40 and Bretton Woods 100. The Atlantic Shore railroad will run special cars, up excursions on the Boston & Maine are made possible. For mail orders address Box 178, York Village, or telephone No. 1 York. A tea house in the woods will be a great convenience to motor people, who before returning will welcome a cup of tea or an iced drink. Tickets are $1, children half price, and boxes holding six, $9.

A NOTED CLUB WOMAN DEAD

SAN FRANCISCO, July 8.—Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker of Denver, ex-president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, died here at 8.20 last night following an operation performed Friday for intestinal trouble. Mrs. Decker rallied immediately after the operation and until Saturday night her condition was considered hopeful, but after a change for the worse in the evening she sank steadily.

Mrs. Decker came here to attend the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs. In the sessions of the convention she was conspicuous by successful pleas for an endowment fund.

She was taken ill Monday and Dr. Cornelia de Bey of Chicago, one of the federation delegates, sent her to a sanitarium and called a consultation. From the first it was made known that Mrs. Decker's condition was critical.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker, widow of Judge Decker of Colorado, was born in Vermont, daughter of Edwin and Maria Adams Chase. Her home for a time was in Holyoke. She later lived on Long Island and in New York, moving to Denver in 1887.

Mrs. Decker's name was brought before the public prominently in 1904, when she was elected president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs of America. She was an out-and-out suffragist, and living in Colorado where women have a say at the polls, she early became a leading figure in the nation-wide struggle for women's rights.

In 1909 suffragettes of the country were aroused by the announcement that their sisters in Colorado were determined to send a woman to Congress and had selected Mrs. Decker for the honor, but she never took the idea seriously. However, after her failure to be elected to Congress, the women of Denver prevailed upon her to accept the nomination for mayor of Denver, but without success.

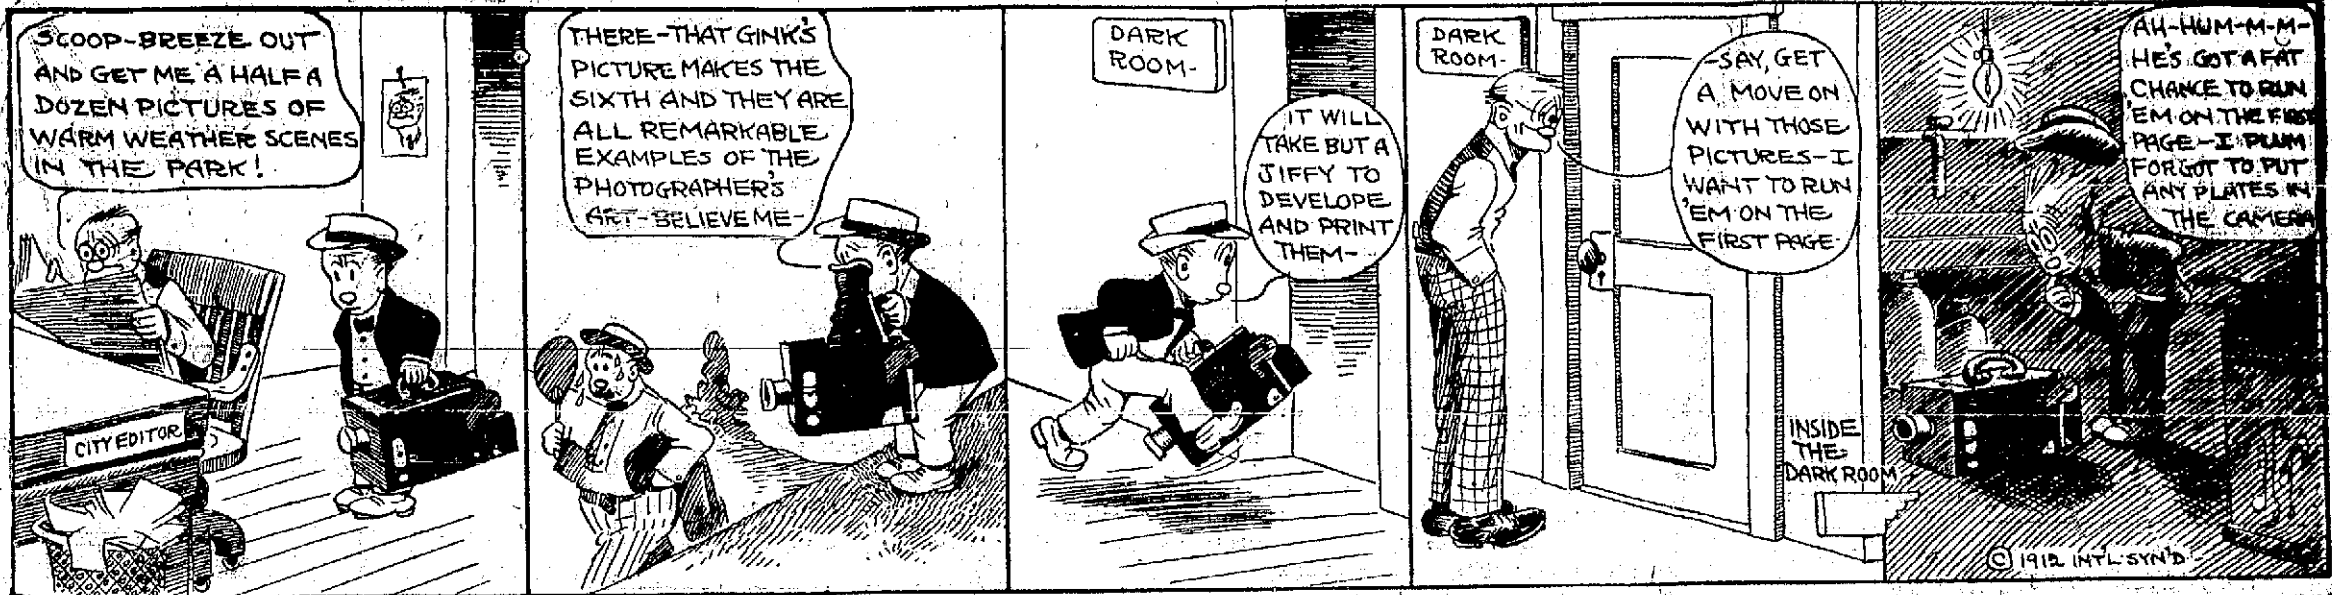

Mrs. Decker possessed considerable wealth and had many interests, being a member of the D. A. R. and W. R. C. of Colorado. She stood for the best in children, politics, charity and home life.

"The best game of the season," was the verdict of nine-tenths of the fans who saw the Y. M. C. A. defeat the Knights of Columbus on Monday evening. George McPheters pitched a hitless, runless game, and the only men who got on bases were the three passers that Mac issued, but they were not dangerous and only one reached second. Trayers pitched a great game for the Knights, striking out nine men, and allowing only three hits, but two of these were bunched and they resulted in the only run. However, only two men reached second and but one third and home.

Both teams played fine ball, for what little they had to do. The only error was that of Bill Brackett's in the fourth, which was excusable, as in the minds of about everybody the man was out. O'Brien hit a grounder to Brackett, who threw high to first, but Gowen made a wonderful stop without leaving his base and apparently had plenty of time, but Howard declared him safe and Bill had to take an error.

The Knights had Hedgstrom behind the bat and he caught a fine game, while Fitzgibbons, who was injured two weeks ago, while catching, was on first and he covered the bag fine, making one fine stop. Charlie Brackett played a fine game at third and Ralph was strong as usual on the receiving end.

The game in detail:
First Inning.
The Knights were up and Mates fled out to right, Reardon fanned and Hedgstrom walked and stole second. O'Brien hit a hard ball that Charlie Brackett got on the jump.

The Y. M. C. A. were out in short order, as McPheters and Ralph Brackett fanned and W. Brackett hit to Fitzgibbons.
Second Inning.
The Knights got a man on after Fitzgibbons struck out. Heffernan dropped one in front of the plate, and R. Brackett threw him out. Driscoll walked but McWilliams fanned.

The Young men got a man on by a hit but it was no use. Gowen and C. Brackett struck out. N. Howard hit over second and stole second, but Weaver fanned.

Third Inning.
Trayers and Mates struck out and Reardon was out on an infield fly to McPheters.

Remick was thrown out by Trayers and Leary and McPheters fanned.
Fourth Inning.
Hedgstrom struck out. O'Brien hit to Bill Brackett, who threw high to first, Gowen making a wonderful stop, but he was declared safe. Fitzgibbons hit to Bill Brackett, who forced O'Brien at second and a minute later Fitzgibbons was caught off first.

Here is where the Young Men won the game. R. Brackett struck out. Hedgstrom dropped the ball and Ralph kicked it half way down the base line, but Hedgstrom made a fine pick up and toss to first. Bill Brackett hit for two bases over first base and went to third on a short passed ball and he scored on Gowen's hit over second. Gowen was thrown out trying to steal second and C. Brackett struck out.

Score—Y. M. C. A., 1.

Fifth Inning.

It was the Knights last chance. Heffernan hit a long fly to right that Remick was under. Driscoll drew a pass and was thrown out trying for second and McWilliams ended the game with a strike out.

Who is the Best Third Baseman? Here are Several Leading Stars

New York, July 9.—Who is the best third baseman? This is a topic that fans and of continual interest. The question is one that will never be settled, as it is merely a matter of personal opinion. There are so many things that enter into matter that exact comparisons can't be made. For instance, without detracting from the great work done by Herzog, would he be such a star if he were with a weaker team than the Giants? Much of the work of the third baseman depends on the shortstop, the second baseman or the first baseman. The better the other men are the better the third baseman appears. So it is a matter of take your pick when you compare such men as those pictured herewith.

DARTMOUTH CAPTAIN DEAD.

Alfred H. Tilley, Leader of Track Team, Succumbs to Appendicitis After Two Days' Illness.

HANOVER, N. H., July 8.—After two days' illness Captain Alfred H. Tilley of the Dartmouth College track team for 1912, died of appendicitis in the Mary Hitchcock Hospital. Tilley was one of the best hammer throwers that ever represented the Hanover College and was very popular among his teammates and the undergraduates. He entered Dartmouth in 1909, but withdrew after one semester. He re-entered college in 1910 and was prominent in track athletics since.

Tilley was a member of Phi Gamma Delta and of the C. and G. Society of the senior class. His home was in Illinois and prior to entering Dartmouth he took a course in Illinois University. During his career on the Dartmouth track team he made an enviable reputation as a hammer thrower, and was the only other weight thrower except Flanagan, who resorted to the triple swing. He won first place in the Harvard-Dartmouth dual meet in 1911 and first place in the intercollegiate meet the same year. At the New England Intercollegiate meets on Pratt Field, Springfield, for the last two seasons Tilley was prominent in the point winning column for Dartmouth.

ACT QUICKLY.

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Portsmouth

Do the right thing at the right time.

Act quickly in time of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Plenty of evidence to prove this.

Mrs. John W. Smart, 172 Gates St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "Eight or nine years ago I began to suffer from kidney trouble. I had sharp pains in the small of my back which at times changed to a dull, grinding ache and if I over exerted myself, my suffering was intensified. I felt tired nearly all the time and had but little energy. Having reason to believe that my kidneys were disordered, I began trying various remedies but without success until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's Pharmacy. The contents of two boxes improved my condition."

the Boston Navy Yard to Newport to investigate the running into the battleship New Hampshire by the Fall River Line steamship Commonwealth yesterday, reported today that temporary repairs upon the New Hampshire would put the ship in condition to proceed under her own steam to the New York Navy Yard, where permanent repairs could be made at an estimated cost of $15,000 in about two weeks.

Rear Admiral Aaron Ward, senior admiral of the Atlantic fleet, in the absence of Rear Admiral Osterhaus, now on his way North from Cuba, has ordered a board of inquiry, and until its work is finished the Navy Department will take no action.

The New Hampshire was at anchor when struck, and unless it should appear that she was improperly placed in the harbor, under the usual rule the Fall River Steamship Company would be called upon to pay for her repairs.

PAPER KING CHISHOLM DEAD

NEW YORK, July 8.—Hugh J. Chisholm, a pioneer paper manufacturer, formerly president of the International Paper Company and president of the Oxford Paper Company, died at his 5th avenue residence this morning in his 67th year.

The body will be taken to Portland, Me., where funeral services will be held on Wednesday. His wife and a son, Hugh, Jr., survive him.

PETTY POLITICIANS HURTING THE BOSTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Vice President Timothy B. Byrnes has thrown a bomb into the camp of the little crowd of members of the so-called Boston Chamber of Commerce who have been "knocking" the Boston & Maine railroad for no apparent cause. There are a few small men drawing big salaries from the chamber who are nothing more or less than petty politicians and they are certain to be shown up in time. Some day the Boston public will discover that Boston's progress is held back by an organized gang. Vice President Byrnes should follow up his statement with others and let the public know just who these men are and tell their methods.

ITS UNFITNESS DEMONSTRATED

The efforts of Secretary of the Navy, Meyer, to show the advisability of Narragansett Bay for a naval base on the Atlantic coast seems to have received two black eyes. The efforts of the Secretary to concentrate a large number of the battleships at Newport for social purposes may be pleasing to the many of the officers, but in our judgment it is not to the best interest of the navy. Following close on the grounding of the battleship Louisiana comes the ramming of the battleship New Hampshire, a ship in which every native of the good old Granite State takes a just pride, by the Fall River liner Commonwealth.

It was demonstrated last winter when Narragansett Bay was completely ice blocked, in every fair-minded person that it was not adapted for a naval base in the winter time.

Now in the summer time it is again brought forcibly to the country's attention owing to its congested, shallow and inaccessible condition.

This is certainly a striking contrast to the Portsmouth navy yard, situated on an arm of the sea, only a short distance from the ocean, with ample water to dock the largest battleship of the navy at any stage of the tide.

That the practical features of the navy should be considered before the social requirements is the belief of those who have the best interest of our navy at heart.

NIAGARA STRONG AS 150,000,000 MEN.

United States army engineers, in a recent report on Niagara Falls, estimate the force of the cataract at 5,000,000 horse power, or 150,000,000 man-power. If one undertook to develop this energy for only a single day by hiring men at $2 each, it would cost $300,000,000, or enough to build another Panama Canal. Besides that, it would be necessary to recruit the world for laborers, as the total able-bodied male population of the United States is only about a tenth of the working force that would be required.

Yet it cannot be said that the country is wasting the cost of the Panama Canal every day at Niagara. It is estimated that a million visitors derive pleasure and inspiration from the great masterpiece of Nature every year, while electrical generating plants have been established which are developing almost 500,000 horse power from the falling flood. This amount will probably be increased eventually by about half as much again, but it cannot materially exceed that, because the United States and Great Britain recently negotiated a treaty limiting the development of water power in the lower division of which July 15, 1912, an agreement was reached according to the findings of government engineers, will not impair the falls as a spectacle.

The treaty is not yet fully operative in the way of the damming of our river, the this country, but will probably become so upon the expiration of existing legislation next spring. The new arrangement will allow use of an additional 4,400 cubic feet of water a second on the American side, and further benefit industry in this country by permitting unrestricted importation of electric power from Canada.

The Providence Journal says, perhaps the colonel would accept a nomination from the prohibitionists, who have not yet held their national convention. Why, moreover, should the cold water clan refuse to offer him the honor? Is it not recorded that he drinks to excess of no beverage except milk; that he is guiltless of indulgence in highballs and cocktails? He is a natural prohibitionist—his habitual methods of thought have much in kin with the radical program of the would-be suppressionists of the liquor traffic. Nor would the two hundred and fifty thousand prohibition votes be a negligible factor on election day if added to the Roosevelt total.

Bird's-Eye Views.

There are moments in the life of a conviction patriot when the square meal becomes as much a consideration as the square deal.

Tammany has never been able to produce an olive branch that did not look like poison ivy.

No, gentle reader, there was no typographical error. The word is "mouse," not "mousse."

A steam roller with a hot box is a very slow and exasperating mechanism.

Evidently some delegate had a string tied around his finger, as the convention did not forget to make a nomination for vice president.

It would seem that the two political conventions had proved conclusively the futility of counting your delegates before they are seated.

The question now is whether the bull spoon can be safely lodged in the barn cellar before he smashes all of grandma's fine antique china.

The Boston Globe complains that the trunk and the trunk key are rarely found in conjunction, but you can always unlock a trunk with an axe.

Governor Wilson was in the bath tub when the news reached him that Illinois had turned. Nothing of that kind could ever happen to some of our statesmen.

It would be a great convenience for statesmen whose duties at the United States Capitol ought to detain them, if both conventions were held in Washington.

Assembling the home folks at a convention for the purpose of letting them see just how a great personal triumph is going to be worked out is always a risky enterprise.

There were times when the only way to produce a demonstration would have been for a representative of the weather bureau to unfurl a cold wave.

Rumor has it that precedence in the subordinate ranks of the Roosevelt progressives is still considered worth quarreling for.

The Declaration of Independence not only makes every man his own master but, if its spirit is observed, it also makes him the servant of his neighbor.

The tragic Yoniman and Quimby accidents makes it seem a long time before conservative Uncle Reuben will hitch up the airship to take the family to church.

If Harry Thaw had been found weeping instead of laughing over the "Penny page" of a New York Sunday paper, there would be more hope of proving him sane.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Where is the Publication?

Editor of the Herald:

Dear Sir:—For the information of the many impatient readers of the Herald, won't you do them the favor of sending out a reporter for the purpose and the object of obtaining some information as to the whereabouts of that book of information as an advertisement of our city and its vicinity as a summer resort and commercial location, and for which about $500 was appropriated many months ago by our bustling (?) city council.

The authority was given and the power to act was placed in the hands of a "live" committee, and the Mayor was authorized to borrow the funds to cover the expense of the same when the snows of winter lay heavy upon our local environment.

Where is the publication? what better time to distribute our advantages than now, when throngs of strangers are coming and going to and from every state in the Union?

Will the gigantic publication be soon forthcoming? Or is the author's manuscript taking on such encyclopedic proportions that it best await further appropriations before offering it to the public?

Perhaps, after all, the matter has gone in the way of the damming of our river, the DOING clears the mind. Physical activity has a peculiar luminous effect upon the judgment. The soundest views of life come not from the pulpit or the professional chair but from the workshop.

To saw the plank or nail down a shingle, to lay a stone square or a house evenly, to run a locomotive or raise a good crop of corn, somehow reacts upon the intelligence, reaching the very inward-essential cell of wisdom; provided always the worker is brave, not afraid of his own conclusions, and does not hand his thinking over to some guesser with a large bluff.

Doing makes religion. All the religion that is of any account is what we thrust out with our hands, suffer out with our hearts and find out with our own visions.

Doing creates faith. Doubt comes from Sundays and other idle hours. The only people who believe the ten commandments are those who do them. Those who believe the world is growing better are they that are trying to make it grow better.

Doing brings joy. The sweetest of joys is the joy of accomplishment. Make love and you will feel love. Quit making love and you will doubt love. Be kind, steadily and persistently, and you will believe in kindness. Be unclean and you will soon sneer at anybody's claim virtue to virtue.

So a man has his own destiny, his own creed, his own internal peace, his own nobility in his hands—literally in his hands. For all the worth-while wisdom or goodness you have in your head and heart was soaked up from your hands.

Now that the matter of changing the location of the Hovey Memorial fountain is being agitated it would seem very desirable to locate it opposite the main entrance to the Post Office.

Willie's Fourth of July.

Willie had ten little fingers,
Five upon each little hand,
And he also had five toes,
On each foot, you understand.

Two good eyes, and ears as many Little Willie also had,
And a pointed nose made Willie
Quite a healthy, normal lad.

This was on the morning of the Glorious Fourth, we're free to state,
Just before our fine young hero
Sailed forth to celebrate.

But, to hurry with our story,
When the sun was sinking low
And his folks took inventory,
What did Willie have to show?

Toes and fingers he had twenty,
Properly distributed,
And his eyes and ears were plenty
Good enough for any kid.

But upon his face his pointed Nose stuck out with some disdain,
And it seemed, almost disjointed,
'Cause his Fourth was safe and sane.

GOES BEYOND DEPTH

Drowned in Piscataquog River at Manchester.

MANCHESTER, July 9.—Ester Miller, aged 12, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Miller of 231 Thornton street, West Manchester, was drowned in the Piscataquog river early last evening.

The girl went in bathing several hundred feet above the public bathhouse, having a girl companion with her. Miss Miller waded in beyond her depth and being unable to swim, drowned before her companion could summon assistance.

The body was recovered by a detail from the police department under the direction of Frank P. Wiggin. The girl leaves a sister besides her parents.

OFF UNTIL JULY 23

NEW YORK, July 9.—Hearings in the government suit in equity to dissolve the American Sugar Refining company, which was set to be resumed yesterday, were adjourned until July 23, to be taken up at San Francisco. From San Francisco the hearings will shift to Salt Lake, then to Denver and back in New York, about the middle of September.

N. H. SONS OF REVOLUTION CHOOSE OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution in the state of New Hampshire was held in this city Monday, July 8, at 11 a. m.

The following gentlemen were elected to fill the several official positions in the society for the ensuing year:

President, Henry August Yeaton.
Vice President, Rev. Alfred Langton Elwyn.

Treasurer, Capt. Stephen Decatur.
Secretary, Col. Thomas E. O. Marvin.
Delegates to the General Convention, Winthrop Lippitt Marmion, Thomas Oliver Marvin, Boston; Albert W. Thompson, Manchester.

Historian, Rev. Alfred Langton Elwyn.
Board of Managers, Thomas E. O. Marvin, Stephen Decatur, Albert W. Thompson.

The secretary made formal announcement of the decease of Captain Marcus M. Collins and Dr. John William Parsons since the previous annual meeting, whereupon an impressive eulogy was pronounced by the president, Henry A. Yeaton, to the memory of Capt. Marcus M. Collins. After which Col. T. E. O. Marvin offered an appropriate eulogy to the memory of Surgeon John W. Parsons, U. S. V. Each of the said deceased members of the society rendered long and efficient service to the country, in the Union army during the Civil War.

The secretary was instructed to procure copies of the above mentioned eulogies and to place them on file in the archives of the society and to transmit copies of each to the secretary of the General Society in New York.

SEAMEN FIGHT POLICEMEN IN DOCK RIOT

New York, July 9.—Serious disorders in connection with the seamen's strike broke out last night. A man believed to be a striker was killed, a Brooklyn policeman probably fatally shot, another policeman seriously injured and a strike breaker probably fatally wounded.

One disorder occurred at New York on the lower East river waterfront when the police tried to disperse a crowd of 500 strikers and sympathizers, who had gathered with the supposed intention of marching to the docks and winning more men to their ranks.

The police found the strikers armed. Shot after shot was fired, mainly as a show of defiance, and missiles of all kinds were thrown, some from roofs of water front buildings.

When the reserves reached the scene and cleared the mob by charging it in a flying wedge, a man with a bullet wound through his hip was picked up. He died on the operating table at the hospital. Twenty men were arrested.

In Brooklyn a striking fireman from the Porto Rican steamship Granado shot a strike breaker, who had taken his job. The strike breaker received the bullet in the abdomen and will probably die.

WHAT IT COSTS TO ENTER YOUR NAME AS A CANDIDATE.

Motion Pictures Show Arrival of Presidential Party in Beverly

Mrs. William H. Taft yesterday afternoon enjoyed a private exhibition of motion pictures of the reception to herself and President Taft at Beverly on the morning of the Fourth. The exhibition was given at the Dreamland Theatre, and Mrs. Taft was accompanied by her daughter, Helen, and Miss Mabel Boardman of Manchester. A number of summer colonists made up the audience, and after the performance Mrs. Taft held a reception in the lobby of the theatre. The views, the first motion pictures taken in Beverly, were especially good, showing the reception, various views along the line of the parade, and a striking picture of the President arriving at "Paradise."

Today Mrs. Taft will be one of the patronesses at the lawn fête in aid of the Hampton Institute, which is to be held on the Pickman estate, Beverly Cove.

WITNESSED SURRENDER OF PORT ARTHUR

Rev. W. A. Rand of Seabrook Was a Member of the Forlorn Hope Regiment

Forty-nine years ago today, July 9, 1863, Rev. William A. Rand, for many years pastor of the South Seabrook Congregational church, then a member of the famous organization known as the "Forlorn Hope," say 5000 Confederate soldiers lay down their arms at Port Hudson after furious fighting for numerous weeks in that region.

The so-called "Forlorn Hope" consisted of 10400 Yankee officers and soldiers from 50 different organizations, who at the call of General Banks volunteered to lead the Unionists in a final assault on the rebels' works, after two previous assaults had been successfully repulsed by the Confederates.

It was the plan of this body of brave men to approach the works in a zig-zag trench when a mine was exploded that should make a breach in the intrenchments they were to rush in at that point while the remainder of the army was keeping the rebels engaged at other points.

In this "Forlorn Hope" there were enough officers so that 20 companies were formed, each having a captain and three lieutenants. They volunteered with the express understanding that they must gain an entrance, even though there was a strong probability that the death rate would be tremendous. The call for these troops was made on June 17 and they were organized shortly afterward. The time before the date set was spent in drilling and in waiting for orders to move, which order was expected at any moment.

The days passed and on July 2, General Banks addressed the stormers and told them that they should celebrate the Fourth in Port Hudson and that "the duty would be glorious."

But the holiday went by and the picked battalion waited in suspense. Then came a dispatch announcing that Vicksburg had surrendered. Col. Birge called the stormers together and read this dispatch. The men cheered for the victory and the Colonel then called for three cheers for the inside of Port Hudson which were given with great enthusiasm. The next morning the white flag was seen floating over the fortifications and the rebels in Port Hudson asked for terms of surrender.

A conference was held, the rebels found further resistance useless and on the morning of July 9th the "Forlorn Hope" of stormers, who had expected to sacrifice their lives on the formidable works, marched peacefully through an opening of the intrenchments with colors flying and to the music of "Yankee Doodle" played by the brass band, to a point where the rebels were drawn up in line, with guns at their side. After the two lines had been brought face to face the Confederate commander gave the order, "Ground arms!" which was done.

Then Colonel Birge addressed the stormers saying that the object for which they had volunteered had been accomplished and the brave men could return to their various companies.

At that time Rev. Mr. Rand was a corporal in Co. K, 16th New Hampshire infantry, and six other men of his regiment were with him in the famous organization.

MASSACHUSETTS SENATORS AND PRESIDENT AT ODDS

Crane and Lodge Want Andrews
Instead of Judge Parsons

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Friends of President Taft were expressing anxiety because of the relations between the President and Senators Crane and Lodge of Massachusetts which were reported dangerously near breaking point. The Massachusetts Senators are aggrieved at the attitude of the President in the trouble in the Treasury Department as a result of which Dr. A. Piatt Andrews was forced out as assistant secretary because of trouble with Secretary MacVeagh.

The appointment of a judge for the New England Circuit was also a matter of discussion. The President was known to favor the appointment of Judge Parsons of New Hampshire while both Senators Crane and Lodge were urging that Judge Frederick Dodge of Massachusetts be named for the place.

It was thought today that the President might yield to the pressure brought to bear on him and grant a further consideration of the Andrews case.

As to the other matter at issue, it was thought here that the Senators would unite to demand the appointment of Judge Dodge to the Circuit court vacancy caused by the death of Judge Schoufeld.

from the Boston navy yard, is in charge of temporary repairs on board the battleship New Hampshire, which was rammed in the fog and badly damaged by the Fall River liner Commonwealth Sunday morning, in Narragansett Bay. From all the warships here mechanics have been sent to the New Hampshire to make temporary repairs and clear away wreckage.

Considerable headway was made today in the work of temporary repairing. Preparations were made to build a wooden wall about the stem of the New Hampshire so that the warship could proceed to a dry dock.

The New Hampshire will be sent to the New York or Boston navy yard, most likely the former, for repairs.

The court of investigation, with Commander Holmes of the battleship Louisiana as president, has ended its session. Its report will go to the navy department through Rear Admiral Ward, the senior naval officer present.

ITALIAN FAMOUS MURDER CASE ENDED

Camorra's Found Guilty After Two Years' Trial--Nine of First Degree and Others for Lesser Offense.

VITERBO, Italy, July 8.—The verdict in the Camorra trial was handed down today. Nine of the accused were unanimously declared guilty of the murder of Giovanni Casale and his wife. The remainder of the band were found guilty of belonging to a criminal association.

With the ending of the Camorra trial, which has been going on for two years, great excitement prevailed all over the town. Reinforcements of troops and mounted police had arrived to assist in maintaining order. A body of police was especially entrusted with the surveillance of the court and its precincts.

A number of relatives of the accused, comprising wives, sisters and mothers, arrived here this morning, bringing a votive offering a wax candle to the Madonna, while others brought gifts for St. Rosa, the patron

The presiding judge today resumed his sifting up of the evidence, taking the greatest pains to explain to the jury the exact position of every one of the accused and the significance of all of the 144 questions which the jury must answer.

All the accused maintained an absolutely calm demeanor. Only Ciro Vitozzi, the priest known as the "guardian angel of the Camorra," displayed any kind of shame at being forced to enter the iron cage with the other prisoners. He muttered prayers all the morning, saying "I am in the hands of God and of the jurors, whom I pray the Almighty to illuminate."

MAKE SCREEN USEFUL

DECORATIVE POSSIBILITIES ARE MANY AND VARIED.

Idea From the Japanese Worth Consideration — As Substitute for Ordinary Door a Perfect Color Scheme May Be Devised.

As a decorative adjunct to the interior the Japanese have always been credited with recognizing and availing themselves of the screen when planning the furnishing of a house. And from the east to the west women have been taught also how useful the screen can be in a decorative scheme. By screen, perhaps, one insensibly means the usual fourfold arrangement, but it is also meant to convey the finely carved and artistically designed oak or similar wood erection which one finds sometimes used instead of doors. But such a screen must be in the right place, and decorators have long since realized how fine an effect can be produced by the right kind of screen in the right place.

And now architects are commencing to know its value, and in modern houses the screen is, to a certain extent, replacing the old-fashioned door. That is to say, in a house boasting of five rooms, and not in a suburban villa residence. By the substitution of the screen for the ordinary door a house of vistas is the result. Long rooms leading one from the other, the decoration of each so arranged that the color scheme and furnishing seem to blend artistically to form a perfect whole. And that is where the decorator triumphs.

Today, the four-leaf screen has perhaps reached a culminating point in artistic conception, and in the exquisite handwork which distinguished the screens which come to America from Japan, although there are many beautiful examples which are made here.

For instance, for a Louis XV. drawing room nothing could be more in harmony with the period than a screen of tapestry.

The latest Japanese screens are the work of artists who understand and appreciate the blending of the most delicate and the most crude colors, and the result is a masterpiece of needlework.

On a dark background one design represents a tall tree standing in a meadow, and in the long grass are seen tiny white wild flowers. In another panel there is a tree overlooking a pool, the branches casting deep shadows in the water. The framework of the screen is lacquer.

Another beautiful screen represents Mount Fujiyama and the inland sea, the light reflected from the snow-capped peak shining on the water; beside the lake, standing sentinel, there is a tall tree, the light shining on the trunk and turning it to green and gold. In the water there are some white ducks sporting themselves. Each panel of the screen forms a complete picture.

Perhaps the most beautiful of all was the screen in dull black cloth, which formed a perfect background for the scene depicted, tall purple and white iris growing in a pool, the tall, spiky leaves being so absolutely perfect and the flowers so wonderfully worked as to make one doubt whether it could be embroidery. Over the pool hovered a solitary bird with a red and blue head and a long red bill, which gave the little touch of color which the picture needed.

Luncheon Dish.

A novel and tempting luncheon dish may be prepared from a small quantity of well seasoned corned beef hash, sliced into halved green peppers that have been carefully seeded and boiled in salted water for 15 minutes, says Today's Magazine. Cover the tops with browned bread crumbs and cook in a hot oven for ten minutes. Serve with a brown gravy. This is an excellent method of using a small portion of good material that might otherwise be wasted.

Baked Fish.

After washing fish, salt and pepper it, put in baking pan and stuff with this dressing: One-half pint of bread, one onion and a little parsley, a little pepper, chopped fine, salt, and a little sugar, two eggs, a teaspoon of butter and flour, put two or three whole tomatoes in the pan with the fish, add some water and bake over the fish while baking. You can use can tomatoes if you haven't the fresh ones.

Lemon Syrup.

One and three-fourths pounds of sugar, one quart of water, one ounce citric acid, 36 drops of essence of lemon, half sugar and water one-fourth hour, when cold add essence and acid. The citric acid must be finely powdered, bottle closely, use two tablespoonfuls to a glass of water. This makes an excellent hot weather drink and takes the place of lemonade when it is not convenient to have lemons.

For Pantry Shelves.

Do away with papers on your pantry shelves by substituting for them two or three coatings of white enamel. The effect will appeal to housekeepers on account of its inviting and cleanly appearance, aside from its sanitary qualities.

Slicing Lemons.

Lemon slices should be separated when cut and not have a bit of skin that is uncut to hold them together. Seeds should be removed from the slices.

AMERICANS DOING GREAT WORK IN OLYMPIC GAMES

Meredith Makes New Record in 800 Meter Run--Richards in High Jump.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, July 8.—After a very hard day's work on Sunday, during which the great stadium, where the Olympic games are held, was the scene of exciting contests from early in the morning until 7 p. m., today's opening was a comparatively quiet one.

The standing broad jump, in which C. Tsiclitiras, Greece, won first place, and Platt Adams and Benjamin W. Adams of New York captured second and third places, gave occasion for the raising of two American flags on the staffs at the end of the stadium. Both of these men will be awarded gold medals which are offered to all jumpers doing over 3 meters 10 centimeters. The trial heats in the 10,000-meter walk and the 400-meter relay race were quite unexciting.

Performances by fair-haired Norwegian and Finnish women gymnasts, who carried out evolutions on the field, swung on ropes and jumped bars, made a pretty picture, and the wrestling also furnished some interest to the spectators present, who numbered about 10,000 when the day's events started. The weather continues hot and consequently favorable to the members of the American team.

Nineteen athletes of various nationalities competed in the standing broad jump. Among them were four representatives of the United States. Of these Platt Adams of the New York A. C. captured second place, with a jump of 3 meters 35 centimeters, and Benjamin W. Adams of the same club third place, with 3 meters 23 centimeters.

Leo Goehring, Mohawk A. C., tied with a Swedish competitor for fifth place, with 3 meters 14 centimeters. R. L. Byrd, Adrian College, was eighth, with 3 meters 12 centimeters. Maranda of Canada was 17th, with 2 meters 98 centimeters.

Richards Wins High Jump.

The first victory of the United States for the day came in the running high jump, when Alvin W. Richards of Utah won with a jump of 183 centimeters. Liesche of Germany was second, and George L. Horine of Leeward Stanford University, California, was third.

The jump of Richards, 193 centimeters (a little over 6 feet 4 inches), set the Olympic record of 6 feet 4 inches made by the American, Porter, at the Olympic games in London in 1908.

Liesche, Horine and Richards, by jumping 191 centimeters (slightly more than 6 feet 2 1/4 inches), also set the Olympic record. Their jumps of 189 centimeters (a shade under 6 feet 2 1/2 inches) were slightly under the record.

At 189 centimeters Liesche and Horine cleared the bar at the second attempt and Richards at the third. Eggon R. Erickson of the Mott Haven A. C., New York, and James Thorpe of the Carlisle Indian School failed. At 191 centimeters Liesche cleared the bar at the second attempt and Horine and Richards at the third. Then Richards made his winning jump.

Cleanup in the 800 Meters.

The Americans made a cleanup and a world's record in the finals of the 800-meter run, which was won by J. E. Meredith of the Mercersburg Academy. His time of 1m 51 9-10s beats the 1m 52 1-8s made by Melvin W. Sheppard at London, in 1908. Sheppard and Ira Davenport, by covering the distance in 1m 52s, also beat the standing record. Hans Brann of Germany finished fourth.

Meredith was timed officially at the half-mile while running the 800-meter race and broke the world's record for that distance, his time being 1m 32 1-2s.

Tewanima Second in 10,000.

The final of the 10,000 meter race was won by Kalehmatnen of Finland. Louis Tewanima of the Carlisle Indian School was second, A. Stenroos of Finland third, Joseph Kepper of Manitoba fourth and A. Orlando of Italy fifth. The time was 31m 20s.

Keiser Placed in Walk.

In the first heat of the 10,000-meter walking race, George Goulding of Canada and E. J. Webb of England led from start to finish. The two American competitors, Edmund Renz, Mohawk A. C., and Samuel Schwartz, New York city, unattached, were both entirely out-classed. Goulding won by 30 yards. The first five in each heat of this event are qualified to walk in the final.

In the second heat of the 10,000-meter walking race, there were 13 competitors. The Englishman, Yates, won easily. The two United States representatives, Fred Keiser, N. Y. A. C., and Alfred Voelmeke, Eastme A. C., were placed fifth and sixth respectively, but only the first named is qualified for the final. The American walkers were more than a lap behind the winner at the finish. The second

ANOTHER MASTER FOR WIRELESS

NEW YORK, July 8.—A special to the Sun from London says: The International Conference on Wireless Telegraphy which closed here on Friday unanimously adopted a resolution proposed by the British delegation that the obligation to carry a wireless outfit should be imposed on certain classes of ships. It was suggested that the Government agree to the adoption of a uniform base for legislation. Some of the new regulations suggested were that ships be provided with an auxiliary source of power besides their engines which would be able to work the wireless for at least six hours. This auxiliary power must be secured in a position entirely self-contained.

In view of the risk of distress calls going unheard in ships of the first class a permanent watch is to be required on at least two fully qualified operators must be carried. In second-class ships the operators must listen for the first ten minutes of every hour. In the smallest ships, such as fishing boats, etc., no regular periods of watch are prescribed. Each Government giving a license to carry wireless shall determine upon which class of ship it shall be placed. There are rules also for both ship and shore stations to suspend work on a distant at the end of each quarter of an hour in cases where it is likely that distress calls hereafter will control the wireless of all stations in its vicinity and the operators of every ship will be placed specifically under the authority of the captain of such vessel.

BEST OF SHORTCAKES

STRAWBERRY THE ACKNOWLEDGED KING OF THEM ALL.

Most Delicious Confection Is That Made With Sour Cream and Soda—General Proposition of the Compounding.

First in the list of strawberry desserts, and, all in all, the most satisfactory, is the strawberry shortcake. This is the testimony of no one person or two but it is true by a sort of national acclamation.

Perhaps there is not a grain of doubt but that the original strawberry shortcake was made with a very rich biscuit dough, and so made before baking powder was in general use—soda biscuit dough—and made of the small wild strawberry. A rich dough in our grandmothers' day had plenty of cream in it, and the finished product was called a cream biscuit. I know pretty positively about this, for the first time I ever put my hands to flour was in the making of these same "cream biscuits"—biscuits shorted mostly with rich and heavy sour cream.

These biscuits took the butter beautifully, just as muffins made with cream do, better than almost any baking powder biscuits are likely to do, and they were consequently very hospitable to strawberry juice.

Young cooks of today do not learn the knack of using soda, but the strawberry shortcake, made with sour cream and soda, is the one most delicious cake, and the undoubted original, from which there have been many aberrations. Even when it is a bit yellow, as it ought never to be, and even if it is a bit soggy, as it may turn out when made by the inexperienced, it has a taste when combined with strawberries that is the strawberry shortcake taste.

The safe strawberry shortcake—one that will never be soggy—is one made with baking powder and an egg, the flour being sifted twice and perhaps thrice over. The amount of shortening used may vary, but the more shortening, within reason, the more of a short cake it is and the nicer with the berry juice. The general proportions are as follows: To one cup pastry flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon of salt, and the shortening, from one to four tablespoons of sugar, one egg or only the yolk or the white only, and a good third of a cup of milk—always make the dough as soft as it can be handled. From four to six even tablespoons of butter may be used or half butter and half lard—the butter is, of course best. One gets a daintier looking cake by using the white of egg only, and one that is better tasting if the cake cannot be eaten while warm. With but little shortening a very good cold whipped cream can be made in this way. When served hot a cake made with the whole egg or the yolk only has what most people would probably think the more agreeable flavor.

A single cup of flour will make a nice little cake for four people. Blend shortening with the dry mixture, add wet ingredients, turn out on floured board, pat into shape with spoon, and flatten with rolling pin. Or drop the roll of dough on a round floured baking tin and pat down till very even, with hand.

Such a cake must be split, but a hot knife will not work any harm in a hot cake made of baking powder, but in making one of soda it is better to avoid the splitting by making two cakes. Butter the top of one, place the other upon it, and bake. A cake well seasoned with butter takes the strawberry juice in a most acceptable way, and a cake baked in this layer fashion may be one of the supremely delicious sort.—Washington Star.

Mock Sausage.
Soak dry bread in cold water, take out the superfluous water by squeezing the bread in the hands, take as much cold meat chopped fine as bread. If the meat is very fat use less meat; mix and season with salt, pepper and sage, stir in one raw egg to bind it together, make into small cakes and fry in spider. They should be rolled in flour, and will fry better if waited several hours before frying. If wanted for breakfast, get ready to fry the night before. You can use the fat parts of flank corn beef or any other fatty or unshapely meats you have.

Renovating Ostrich Feathers.
If your white ostrich feathers are valuable the safest plan for you to follow will be to place them in the hands of a professional dyer to have them cleaned, and recolored according to your desire. Dye chemicals are difficult for an amateur to handle successfully, and expensive articles, such as fine ostrich feathers, might easily be ruined in the process of attempted renovation. The dyer will also recur for you as necessary and results will be really satisfactory.

Two-Egg Cake.
One cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one-half cup milk, two eggs (yolks), two teaspoons baking powder, a little salt, flavor, scant two cups flour. If you have been having poor luck with cake, try above and report success.

Silver Polish.
Cream of tartar, two ounces; prepared chalk, two ounces; pulverized alum, one ounce; water, sufficient to make a paste. Apply with soft cloth. Allow to dry and polish with dry cloth.

U. S. STILL HOLDS APACHES

Only Six of Tribe Ever Fought Government, but All Held in Bitter Captivity.

Phoenix, Ariz.—In the early 80's Colorado-Magnus, Victoria, and Gochie had made the very name Apache a synonym of terror, and then came Geronimo, the superlative savage. Neither sentiment nor friendly feeling can minimize the shocking cruelty of his career, which history has recorded as the high-water mark of bloodthirsty brutality. The extreme hatred and fear felt toward him in the southwest may be guessed from the following incident:

Some years ago the writer was a member of a little group gathered at a ranch in the desert near Phoenix, Ariz., when the conversation turned to Geronimo and his recent conversion to the Christian faith. A lady of the party, the wife of a prominent citizen, immediately flushed with anger and burst out boldly: "If I should see Jacob's ladder let down from heaven, with the angels walking up and down, and Geronimo with his harp in the middle, still I would not believe that he was a Christian." When asked to explain the intensity of her feelings, she said: "When I was a young girl I lived at Tombstone, Ariz., in rooms over the undertaker's establishment, and from time to time had to go down to help prepare the mutilated and desecrated bodies of Apache victims, and you needn't talk about Geronimo being a Christian." This is the sentiment of most of the old-timers—so much so, indeed, that the war department never thought it safe, even in its later years, for the old man to return to Arizona. Let us then be fair and admit the untold and untellable miseries inflicted by him and his band in those dreadful days of raid and massacre.

However, did the space of this article allow, we might tell of brilliant generalship, dauntless courage and incredible endurance on the part of the leader and his band, that forced the United States army and their Mexican and Indian allies into one of the most difficult campaigns in the history of Indian warfare—a campaign that tested to the utmost men like Crook, Miles, Wood, Lawton and Chaffee, and that came to an end only when, exhausted by famine, thirst and continuous marching through mountains and deserts, the bedraggled fragments of the worn-out band of men, women and children came in and surrendered. No man who fought in that campaign will sneer at the Apache as a soldier.

REINDEER QUEEN OF ALASKA

Woman Successfully Competes With Men in Breeding Animals—She Speaks Eight Languages.

Nome, Alaska.—When a woman in an enlightened country makes her way to a front rank in the industrial world, the fact soon becomes known and people are eager to learn something of the conditions that brought it about and of the character of the one who accomplished it. That a woman with a brown skin should successfully compete with the men of her race in a land generally understood to be the domain of the reindeer is a fact that is not generally known. One of these, Mary Arisook Andrew, has received the title of "Reindeer Queen of Alaska."

"Queen Mary" owns a herd of 1,303 deer, which she manages with judgment and intelligence. According to the usual contract made with the government she is required to train three apprentices and to give to each the customary number of deer. She has done better than this. She has trained and rewarded eight or ten apprentices, and at the present time has another under her care. She long since discarded the igloo, or native hut, half underground, in which she was born, and is now comfortably housed near Nome, in a cabin of logs. She speaks seven or eight Indian languages, and this has enabled her to be of considerable service as an interpreter.

Queen Mary has brought up a number of helpless children, and having none of her own, has not only cared for them physically, but has also given them a place in her heart. Surely, according to her light, "she hath done her part."

SACRIFICE SHEEP ON SHIP

Mohammedans Hold Strange Rites at End of World Cruise—Thank Allah for Safe Return.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Mohammedan sailors composing the crew of the German steamship Wurtum, which docked at Christian street wharf recently, completing a round-the-world cruise, held weird religious ceremonies aboard the vessel and killed a sheep as a thank offering to Allah for the successful termination of the voyage.

Only the blood of the animal was sacrificed. The head was severed with one stroke of a huge, keen knife in the hands of the leader of the Oriental seamen. The blood was allowed to flow upon the deck and the sailors prostrated themselves with their faces turned toward Mecca and intoned prayers of thanksgiving. After the religious rites were ended the carcass of the sheep was prepared for food.

The Wurtum left New York about a year ago and visited Singapore and other ports in India, China and Japan. Her return was by way of Ceylon and Calcutta. She was 45 days making the run from Calcutta to this city. The crew includes 57 lascars and 12 Christians.

HEAD BROKEN; EGGS SAFE

Connecticut Man's Fatal Fall Is Mytifying to the Coroner—Has Deep Cut in Head.

Winsted, Conn.—A question puzzling Coroner Herman is how could a man fall to his death with a bag of twelve eggs in one hand and not break a single egg.

George Wilcox, 66 years old was found sitting beside the highway in Sharon at the base of a wall, dead, with two deep cuts in the back of his head.

In a bag beside the lifeless body were a dozen eggs and not one of them was broken.

Jumps From Horse at Cliff

Los Angeles.—Ascending a mountain trail on her handsome black mount, Chancellor, Miss Marjorie Moon of Pasadena met a pack train on a narrow ledge. Chancellor was pushed over the edge and Miss Moon escaped going with him by leaping from her saddle as the horse's footing gave way. The horse rolled down the mountain for several feet and was saved from serious injury by a tree.

A museum of words is planned by a Paris scientist, who hopes to collect phonographic records of all forms of speech.

TO MAKE QUICK PUFF PASTE

Proper Ingredients and Best Method of Putting Them Together Given in a Few Words.

Take one cup of bread flour, one tablespoon of lard, seven-eighths of a cup of butter and cold water enough to mix. Work the lard into the flour, using first the knife, then the tips of the fingers. Moisten to a dough with a little cold water; knead one minute on a slightly floured board; pat, and roll out one-fourth inch thick, keeping the paste wider than long and the corners square. Dot the paste with small bits of the butter, using one-third of it. Dredge with a little flour, fold from the ends to the center, then double, making four layers. Pat and roll out, repeating this till all the butter is used, then roll and shape for use, chill, and bake in a hot oven. The greatest heat must be from the bottom, not on top, that the paste may properly rise. While rising decrease the heat if necessary and turn frequently to bake evenly. When fully risen slip an extra pan under the paste to prevent burning while it finishes baking. Under crust or shells for tarts or pies should be pricked with a fork before baking.

FIXTURES FOR THE BATHROOM

Many Novel Accessories Are Offered for the Convenience of the Housewife.

Every year something new appears in the way of bathroom accessories. Decidedly new are glass twisted towel rods with nickel-plated brackets in conical design, says the Indianapolis News. The twisted glass prevents the towel from slipping off the rods, as so often happens with plain glass rods.

Another new fixture, which will be found useful in a small bathroom where it is impossible to have a stationary washstand, is a basin and soap holder of rubber heavy wire, white enameled. This holder is made to span the bathtub from one side to the other by means of a heavy wire extending out on each side. Both ends of this wire are nickel-plated and made very strong where they clasp the sides of the tub. The whole arrangement has an extension feature which enables it to fit any with bathtub.

Apple Cobbler

Secure one dozen easy cooking apples, pare and slice thin. Now take a mixing pan and sift two quarts of white flour in it; make hole in center and fill the hole with one and one-half cups of sour milk, one scant teaspoon of soda, one spoon of salt; no lard. Work in enough flour to make a stiff dough; roll out on board or table real thin and cut in narrow strips and lay around sides and in bottom of pudding pan. Now put in half of the sliced apples, with enough sugar to sweeten, sprinkle lightly with cinnamon and bits of butter. On top of this put another layer of dough, then the rest of the apples and proceed as before. Put layer of dough on top and cover good with hot water and sit in oven to bake about one hour.

Sick Room Suggestions

When patient's head cannot be raised to drink give any drink from spout of small china teapot; is enjoyed much more than given with spoon. For bathing eyes or wound use medicated cotton, much more pleasant for patient and more sanitary than cloth; use a small piece on toothpick as swab to cleanse discharging ears. When medicines are left by doctor in glasses they must be covered to keep out dust and germs, for these take heavy writing paper, cut the size of top of glass and attach four small brass rings, such as are used for fancy work, one at each side to keep cover in place, and time for giving medicine may be written on cover.

Baked Cream Toast

Toast the required number of slices of two-day-old bread, dip quickly in hot salt water (one teaspoonful to a pint of water), butter and lay in flat pan, then pour a little rich milk over it and place in a hot oven for about five minutes. Take up on a platter and pour two tablespoonsful of cream on each slice, place the platter in the oven just long enough to heat through and then serve at once. Slices of crisp bacon may be placed around the toast. This is an excellent breakfast dish.

Veal and Green Pea Salad

Take one-half pound of cold roast veal, cut in tiny dice, and a large cup of cooked fresh peas or canned peas. Pour over this a French dressing and place in the refrigerator until thoroughly chilled. When ready to serve put it by spoonfuls into cups of crisp lettuce leaves and pour over it a little more French dressing, to which has been added a little green chopped mint, a pinch of mustard and a dash of celery salt.

Egg Mint

When separating the whites from the yolks of eggs, if you accidentally break the yolks into the whites dip a clean cloth in warm water and wring it dry. Touch the yolk which has dropped with a point of this cloth and it will cling to it at once.

Disinfectant

There is no better disinfectant than a card of common matches set in a dish of water. In case of contagious diseases set several numbers of these around through the house.

SEVEN "LITTLE GOVERNORS."

Seven "Little Governors" in a funny fix;

Missouri had played hooky—and there were six.

Six "Little Governors" not enough to thrive; Michigan strayed away—then there were five.

Five "Little Governors," saying "What's the use?" Wondering who will be the next to bolt the royal manure.

What the Post Says

At the Charlestown navy yard I hear the claim made that the two New England naval stations, located at Boston and Portsmouth, can do repair work cheaper than any others on either the Atlantic or the Pacific coasts. When the big collier Mars sustained damages to the extent of over $25,000 in an accident off the Nahama Island recently the navy yards were required to submit competitive bids, with the result that the Mars is now in dry dock at Portsmouth navy yard, that station having underbid its nearest rival by several hundreds of dollars.—Observer Citizen Boston Post.

Applies to Industrial Yards

The instructions previously issued by the bureau of supplies and accounts of the navy department relative to "cost of work for industrial navy yards" have been modified by some instructions adopted as the result of a conference among the experts and placed in operation on July 1 at those yards which are distinctly industrial. The system will not be utilized by yards and stations which are primarily military in their nature. The yards which have been classed as "industrial" are Portsmouth, Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Norfolk, Charleston, Mare Island, Puget Sound, Cavite and Olmstead. At these eleven yards only will the system be adopted.

News for Retired Officers.

Will Complain to Department

Complaint to the naval authorities in Washington about the way the battleships were anchored across the channel at Newport yesterday will be made today by Capt. Fred L. Babbitt of the four-masted schooner Marguerite, which arrived in port yesterday. Capt. Babbitt says that when he came in from sea on Monday, his schooner heavily laden with 2500 tons of coal and somewhat hard to manage in the light breeze, he saw two big battleships anchored squarely in the channel off the Dump, in the narrow entrance to the east passage, which is always used by deep draught ships.

Hampton, Va., July 8.—One thousand marines hurriedly sent to Cuba when the recent troubles there began, returned to Hampton Roads today aboard the battleships Nebraska, Rhode Island and Georgia.

The marines were brought ashore at Old Point Comfort and left tonight for the Philadelphia and New York navy yards.

The battleships of the third division, after landing the marines, were ordered today to proceed immediately to Newport.

NOTICE TO WATER TAKERS

As there are some who are not acquainted with the rules of the Water Department, we again print Art. 11.

Hose shall not be used, unless it has been properly applied for and allowed by the Board, and shall not be used without a nozzle, which nozzle shall not exceed one-eighth of an inch in diameter, unless specially authorized.

The use of hose is, in all cases, restricted to washing windows and vehicles, and watering gardens and grounds on the premises of the taker only, or sprinkling sidewalks and streets immediately bordering such premises. It must not be used over two hours in any one day, and must be confined to the purposes specified in the application, without excessive or unreasonable use.

Parties owning adjoining premises and using the hose on more than one lot, will be charged the rate for each lot on which it is used.

Hose borrowed will be returned the same as if owned, and occasional use the same as constant use. No rate less than four dollars per year will be made for the use of hose. Parties detected in using the hose without notice to the Board will be charged double price.

Hose or lawn sprinklers shall not be allowed to run except between the hours of six o'clock and nine o'clock p. m.

BEES CAUSE TROUBLE TO BLOCK SIGNALS

The "busy bee" is responsible for a lot of trouble with the automatic block signals on the Portland division of the Boston and Maine railroad between Spinney's switch, just east of Kittery, and Jewett.

Electrician Charles O'Connor in charge of the repair work in hunting up the trouble discovered that bees had swarmed in one of the fuse boxes near the track and upset the mechanism so that it threw the semaphore arm at danger. With the signal against them the train crews were obliged to flag their trains a mile to the next block. O'Connor and other workmen who knew how to handle bees clothed in nets went after the insects and had a warm battle in smoking them out of the hive in order to clear up the trouble.

Over five pounds of honey was taken from the box and the bees are said to be going back to begin their work over again.
